Employee Referral Program

CASE STUDY

- Create a advertisement for an HR referral Program, no specific themes indicated
- It must show that an employee would get incentives within the hiring of his/her recommend candidate and another if passed the probationary period.

COLORS

- I choose the hue of violet/purple since this is the brand color of the company that request this design.

DESIGN

- Since there's no required theme nor design inspiration, they let me do whatever I want.
- My take is to make little bit comically, to catch the peoples attention.
- Doing it so, I just make it as short as possible to emphasize the referral program and the incentives they will get.
- then at the end, a proper CTA with good ending on the candidate, to make an illusion that there's a higher chance their candidate will hired and get the incentives.

Whoa, You've got skills

Hehe, Thanks.

I've remember we need someone with your skills, I can recommend you to our Company..

DID SOMEONE HAVE A REFFERAL!? LUCKY FOR YOU WE HAVE A EMPLOYEE REFERRAL PROGRAM!

RECOMMEND A FRIEND NOW AND RECEIVE A DELIGHTFUL INCENTIVES!

AAHHH!

HR

Who are you?

STEP 1

Recommend a candidate who has a quality to fit to our growing company.

STEP 2

Hopefully that candidate will be able to pass our standards and qualified to be hired.

STEP 3

The fun part!
Upon hire of the candidate. You'll recieved the first half the incentives. The other half will be, if the candidate passed the probitionary period*

Why do you have a copy of my CV?

HR

Hi Juan,

Uhm... Hello..

Why we should hire you?

That's a great question for world peace.

*probitionary period will depend on the employer's agreement

Snap!

HIRED!
